Background

Scope and Content

This collection consists of Chipman's writings, correspondence, and teaching and event material. Prominent themes include international trade, with extensive research on West Germany during the Cold War; linear programming; welfare economics; econometrics; the writings and impact of Vilfredo Pareto; and Chipman's collaborations and friendships with other economists.

The range of Chipman's research and writings are represented in the Writings series. Files typically include drafts and published versions (usually offprints), as well as occasional correspondence and notes by him documenting the development of the paper or essay.

The Name Files series includes correspondence, writings, notes, and subject files that document Chipman's professional relationships with publishers, professional organizations, and other economists, especially Leonid Hurwicz, James C. Moore, Tjalling Koopmans, Paul Samuelson, Eugen Slutsky, and Ragnar Frisch.

Finally, the Engagements series includes Chipman's course files with lecture notes, exams, and reading lists, as well as event files from conferences, workshops, and awards over the course of his career.

Biographical/Historical

John Somerset Chipman (1926-1922) was a white Canadian-American academic economist who was born in Montreal, Canada. He received a PhD from Johns Hopkins University in 1951 and taught at the University of Minnesota from 1955 until his retirement as Regents' Professor in 2007. He studied econometrics, international trade, welfare economics, and the history of economic thought.
