Summary

Collection Title:

Jewish Heritage Foundation of North Carolina records, 1750-2014 and undated

Creator:

Jewish Heritage Foundation of North Carolina; Rogoff, Leonard

Abstract:

The Jewish Heritage Foundation of North Carolina records span the years 1750 to 2014 and document the origins and daily operations of the organization, which preserves and presents the history of the Jewish people of North Carolina through public programming, exhibits, and other projects. The collection includes documents and digital material related to the planning, funding, and carrying out of various exhibits, events and projects, especially the multimedia program "Down Home: Jewish Life in North Carolina." Also present are primary and secondary research materials collected by JHFNC historian Leonard Rogoff related to the history and culture of Jews in North Carolina and southern Jewish identity. Types of materials in the collection include financial statements, meeting minutes, correspondence, reports, typescripts, newsletters, marketing materials, photographs, research notes, and audiovisual material. Digital materials include photographs, administrative and promotional materials, and project design materials.

Biographical/Historical

The Jewish Heritage Foundation of North Carolina (JHFNC) is an independent organization dedicated to preserving and presenting the history of the Jewish people of North Carolina. Through public programming and exhibits, the JHFNC aspires to educate and showcase the richness of Jewish Life as well as promote a familiarity with the culture and lifestyle of Jews to the general public.

Chronology

Date	Description
1992	The organization begins as the Efraim and Marian Rosenzweig Judaica and Hebraica Exhibit at the Judea Reform Congregation, with the original Rosenzweig collection of art, artifacts, and rare books relating to Jewish Family life.
1995	The Rosenzweig Museum is established, with the goal of displaying a collection of Judaica

	bequeathed to Durham's Judea Reform Congregation.
1996	The museum is incorporated as an independent non-profit organization and renamed The Rosenzweig Museum of the Jewish Family (also known as The Museum of the Jewish Family and Rosenzweig Gallery), with Lenora Ucko as Director.
1999	The organization's name is changed to the Rosenzweig Museum and Jewish Heritage Foundation of North Carolina.
2003	The Rosenzweig Museum and the Jewish Heritage Foundation of North Carolina divide into two entities.

Collection Inventory

Administrative records, 1922-2014, undated

Physical Description: 3.3 Linear Feet ; 5.3 Gigabytes

Scope and Contents

The materials in this series document the daily operations of the JHFNC and its predecessor organizations, beginning with the Efraim and Marian Rosenzweig Judaica and Hebraica Exhibit at the Judea Reform Congregation. The series also contains materials related to the building of the foundation's archival collections and documents the ultimate destination of archival materials and museum artifacts after the 2003 separation of the JHFNC and Rosenzweig Museum.

Types of material in the series include financial statements, board and committee meeting agendas and minutes, correspondence, reports, bylaws, articles of incorporation, newsletters, artifact appraisals, accession worksheets, loan and donor agreements, photographs of objects, and background research on specific artifacts. Digital materials in the series include computer and email backups, donor and contact databases, marketing and promotional materials, and digital photographs and documents related to museum accessions.

Throughout the series, titles of folders related to specific Rosenzweig/JHFNC accessions reflect the 6-digit accession numbering system established by the Rosenzweig Gallery, with the first two digits representing the year the artifact or archival material was accessioned.

The folders are arranged chronologically and alphabetically thereafter.

Physical Description: 9.7 Linear Feet ; 36.8 Gigabytes

Scope and Contents

This series contains materials related to the several exhibits, events, and projects that the Rosenzweig Gallery and JHFNC initiated, funded, and organized in Durham, NC, and elsewhere. Major projects and exhibits represented include "What We Brought with Us," "Migrations," Rosenzweig Gallery art exhibits and annual juried art shows, "A History of Temple Emanuel, Weldon, NC," and "Down Home."

The materials in this series are arranged into two subseries: Down Home and Other exhibits, events and projects.

Related Material:

Oral history recordings and transcripts related to Down Home, Migrations, and other projects are located in the Jewish Heritage Foundation of North Carolina Oral History Collection. Other audiovisual material related to Rosenzweig/JHFNC projects is located in the Audiovisual Series.

Down Home, 1995-2012, undated

Scope and Contents

The materials in this subseries document the multimedia program "Down Home: Jewish Life in North Carolina" from its inception to its execution. The materials related to the exhibit include correspondence, concept plans, various design drafts and revisions, meeting notes, exhibit plans, outlines, docent notes, artifacts lists, and scripts and curricula associated with the exhibit. Materials related to the Down Home film and book includes contracts, drafts and revisions, correspondence, talks and events, and promotional materials. The subseries also contains materials related to the JHFNC's fundraising and marketing efforts for the Down Home project, including events, mailing campaigns, prospectuses, and various grant applications.

Digital materials in this series consist of digitized photographs, historical documents, and design files used in the research for Down Home and the creation of the exhibit, book, documentary film, promotional materials, and related products. Also included are digital photographs of events related to Down Home.

The materials in this subseries are arranged chronologically.

Scope and Contents

The materials in this subseries describe various Rosenzweig/JHFNC exhibits and events at the Rosenzweig Gallery and throughout North Carolina including the exhibits "Migrations," "The Running Stag," and "What We Brought With Us: Mementos of the Flight From Europe 1933 to 1950" (also known as the Ucko Exhibit); and the annual art shows at the Rosenzweig Gallery. It also contains materials related to the monograph "An Extended Family: A History of Temple Emanu-El, Weldon, North Carolina" (also known as the Weldon project).

The series contains postcards, typescripts, correspondence related to grant funding efforts, promotional material, photographs of exhibit objects and events, and background research materials. Digital materials in the subseries include digital photographs of Rosenzweig Gallery art show submissions, exhibits, and events, and digitized photographs and historical documents used for the Migrations exhibit and Weldon project.

The folders in this subseries are arranged loosely alphabetically by exhibit/event/project and chronologically thereafter.

Related Material:

Digital material related to Migrations can also be found in the Down Home subseries, as many digital photographs originating with the Migrations project were copied and reused for the Down Home project. Historical records related to Temple Emanu-El in Weldon, NC are located in the North Carolina Temple and Synagogue Historical Collection.

Subject files, 1750-2014, undated

Physical Description: 18.3 Linear Feet ; 544.2 Megabytes

Scope and Contents

The Subject files series contains materials collected by JHFNC historian Leonard Rogoff that are primarily related to his research for various JHFNC projects and personal interests including "Down Home," "Migrations," Southern Jewish identity, North Carolina synagogues, temples, and congregations, and the history of the Durham-Chapel Hill Jewish community.

The materials in this series are arranged into two subseries: North Carolina municipalities and Topical subject files.

North Carolina municipalities, 1827-2013, undated

Scope and Contents

The primary focuses of the materials in this subseries are on the Jewish families and communities in various North Carolina cities, towns, and villages. The contents include clippings, articles, obituaries, newsletters, and individual, family, and synagogue and temple histories. Also included are primary manuscript materials, transcripts from oral histories, and photographs.

The folders in this subseries are arranged loosely in alphabetical order, reflecting the original order of the materials.

Related Material:

Digital photographs and other files related to North Carolina municipalities are located in the Exhibits, Events, and Projects series and are arranged by the project they were associated with.

Scope and Contents

The topics in this subseries vary widely but primarily focus on North Carolina and southern Jewish history from the early 1800s to the present. The contents include clippings, articles, newsletters, photocopied research papers and manuscript materials; excerpts from books, family genealogies and histories, and other printed materials; photographs; and some of Rogoff's research-related correspondence, handwritten notes, bibliographies, outlines, and typed speeches on various topics.

The folders in this subseries are arranged loosely alphabetically, reflecting the original order of the materials.
